GETTING AROUND

Melbourne's grid layout makes it an easy city to navigate, with most attractions within walking distance if you're based in the buzzing commercial heart. Transport options include train, tram, bus or bike.

Myki is Melbourne's ticket to travel on the city's trains, trams and buses. It's a plastic smartcard with stored value which can be topped up and re-used again. Purchase your Myki online at the PTV website, premium train stations, retail outlets displaying the Myki sign (including 7-Elevens), or by calling 1800 800 007 (free from a land line) in Australia.

Melbourne now has a 'Free Tram Zone' which includes the area from the iconic Queen Victoria Market, across to Victoria Harbour in Docklands, up to Spring Street and over to Flinders Street Station and Federation Square (refer to attached map). Travel on trams within this zone is free, and you don't need a Myki. However, if your journey starts or finishes outside the boundaries of the Free Tram Zone, you must touch on your Myki at the reader in the normal way to make sure you have a valid ticket.

If staying in the CBD, you could travel free as far as Flinders Street Station and it's a short walk to the conference venues. If staying outside of the CBD, a Myki card may be required.

Melbourne's metro trains run between the outer suburbs and Flinders Street Station in the city. The city loop is Melbourne's underground system, with five stations in the central business district: Southern Cross

Free transport for police

All public transport is free for police to use, but you must have your ID on you to show the public transport operators.
